

Let's connect

15 minute call

I partner with educators, leadership teams, schools, non-profits, and organizations to design and deliver research-based, relational, and context-specific professional development grounded in social and emotional learning. Whether supporting whole-child approaches, staff well-being, or leadership growth, each session is tailored to your community's unique goals and values. My work cultivates restorative communities rooted in hope, fostering organizational health, community well-being, and individual thriving. For communities navigating grief or transition, I offer additional support with care and flexibility.

Recent Consulting

Workshop topics:

- Suicide prevention & postvention strategies
- Grief literacy & trauma-informed care
- SEL, belonging, dignity, and relational trust
- Empathetic listening & dignity-centered practice

Collaborative opportunities

Ask about my collaborations with:

- Wild Feelings
- Samaritans, Inc
- Hey Sam!
- Sea Change Mentoring
- The Kita Center
- Coping After Suicide
- ReThink the Conversation

Format & Pricing

- 2-hour workshops: $500
- Half-day: $1,000
- Full-day customized session: $1,800
- Multi-day or ongoing partnerships; please reach out for custom pricing

All sessions are tailored to your community's needs.

About Steven

I am an educator at heart. I began in a Pre-K classroom and have taught nearly every grade level since. From those early days to leading professional development in Denver and beyond, my focus has always been connection, belonging, and dignity. I've worked with schools across the globe, led national suicide prevention efforts at Samaritans, and designed programs rooted in research, relationships, and cultural humility. Wherever I go, I lead with empathy and the belief that every learner deserves to feel seen, heard, and valued.